

Form CRS – Relative Value Partners Group, LLC

March 18, 2024

Relative Value Partners Group, LLC is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an Investment Adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ, and it is important for you to understand the difference. Free and simple tools are available to you to research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We provide investment advisory services to retail investors. We offer portfolio management services for individuals and businesses, primarily by the use of various, delineated portfolio strategies. In addition, we provide financial counseling and planning which includes, retirement planning, estate planning, tax planning, cash flow planning, and philanthropy management. There are no limitations on those services. We monitor the investments of our clients for whom we provide portfolio management services with continuous ongoing supervision. Our monitoring occurs at a minimum, with quarterly reviews, or upon material economic, disruptive events or from changes in client circumstances and is part of our standard portfolio management services. We act with discretionary authority as a portfolio manager which allows us to purchase and sell securities without seeking your permission prior to trade or with non-discretionary authority where we seek your approval prior to trading. We are not limited in trading except by your known, identified restrictions. We are not limited in any of the investments we recommend to our clients. We have a $1 million minimum account value to open an account with us.

Questions to Ask Us:

Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me?

What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

For portfolio management services, you will pay either an asset-based fee or fixed fee. The asset-based fee is charged, quarterly in arrears, as a percentage of the value of your portfolio based upon the average daily balance for that quarter. Different portfolio strategies have different fees. An asset-based fee means that if the value of your portfolio increases, our fee increases. The fixed fee is based on non-discretionary services provided and is charged quarterly in arrears, with a minimum fee of $25,000. In addition to our fees, you will pay custodian fees, account maintenance fees, transaction costs such as commissions and mark-ups on each transaction, mutual fund ticket charges, and underlying mutual fund managers' fees. We do not participate in any of these fees. For Additional Information, please see our ADV, Part2A, Item 5 at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/281067>.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Question to Ask Us:

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs and how much will be invested for me?

*What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser?
How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?*

When we act as your investment adviser, we must act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money (asset-based fees) creates some conflicts with your interest. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice, we provide to you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

First, due to the fact that we charge fees by strategy, our employees have a financial incentive to recommend higher fee strategies to you. Second, we receive fees from a third party for our portfolio management in a wrap program. These fees are lower than our direct management fees. Third, we provide services to an affiliate which benefits our common owner. Finally, as previously disclosed, an asset-based fee has an inherent conflict of interest because we earn more, the more money you put in your account. For additional information, please see our ADV, Part2A, Item 5 at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/281067>.

Question to Ask Us:

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated by salary and/or by a contractual split of the advisory fees earned by us that the representatives have brought to the firm. In addition, the firm may consider other factors in compensation, such as the amount of client assets they service, the time required to meet a client's needs, or the revenue we earn from the financial professional's advisory services.

Some of our financial advisors are eligible for additional compensation from our indirect parent company, Focus Financial Partners, LLC (or one of its affiliates), depending on our annual revenues and/or earnings. This potential for increased compensation provides an incentive for these financial advisors to encourage you to maintain and even increase the size of your investment account with us. See your financial advisor's Brochure Supplement for more information about your individual financial advisor's compensation.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No.
